Applications for Patents From 28/03/2019 to 05/04/2019

The names of applicants are in alphabetical order. In the case of joint applicants, each name is given independently. The title of the invention should not be regarded as an exhaustive indication of the subject-matter. The date immediately following the title is that on which the application was filed; in the case of a divisional application, the filing date of the earlier application is added within parentheses. In the case of a Convention application the Convention country and priority date(s) claimed are given in square brackets and where an application claimed the priority of an earlier application filed at the office, this information is given within the square brackets. The number is that of the application and should be used for correspondence purposes up to the date of grant of a patent. The letter S preceding the number indicates that the application is for a short-term patent. A new number will be given when a patent is granted and this new number should be quoted in all correspondence subsequent to grant.

Phozie is a phone bed, not a docking station to charge a phone. Phozie needs to be big enough to hold a standard mobile yet neat enough to sit on a locker, shelf etc. Phozie does not have legs as it might accidentally fall off the area on which it was placed. It has a material flat sheet that is fixed, with a pillow at the head of the bed underneath the sheet so it won't fall off and get lost. The raised pillow effect is to make it easier for the phone to be removed. There is also a top blanket/duvet that is fixed down at the back but creates a pocket like bedding for the phone to slip in to at the front. The dimensions of the bed frame (made from light wood, plastic or composite materials) are 21cm by 16cm and 2.5cm thick. When the sheet and blanket covering are on the bed that thickness is about 4cm depending on the choice of material used. The material of the top blanket must be a little stretchy like a pocket. Material can be a range of fabric.
