The names of applicants are in alphabetical order. In the case of joint applicants, each name is given independently. The title of the invention should not be regarded as an exhaustive indication of the subject-matter. The date immediately following the title is that on which the application was filed; in the case of a divisional application, the filing date of the earlier application is added within parentheses. Where an application has been filed pursuant to Section 127A, the filing date shall be either the date of the originating PCT filing, where applicable, or the date directed by the Controller. Where the application invokes the Paris Convention, the Convention country and priority date(s) claimed are given in square brackets. Where an application claimed the priority of an earlier application filed at this Office, this information is given within the square brackets. The number is that of the application and should be used for correspondence purposes up to the date of grant of a patent. The letter S preceding the number indicates that the application is for a short-term patent. A new number will be given when a patent is granted and this new number should be quoted in all correspondence subsequent to grant.

The Planetary Nutrition Label is a new method of labelling food products that incorporates information about their environmental impact to promote sustainable food consumption. The label provides clear and concise information about a product's carbon footprint, land use, water use, biodiversity, and other factors associated with production and consumption. It is based on a comprehensive life cycle assessment that takes into account the entire supply chain of the product, from production to disposal, and provides a score for each of the nine planetary boundaries, as well as an overall score that reflects the product's sustainability. The label empowers consumers to reduce their environmental footprint by making more informed decisions about what they eat. Additionally, it encourages food producers to adopt more sustainable practices to improve their planetary boundary scores.
