Licensing Scheme for cable retransmission within the Territory of a Broadcast or Cable Programme originating outside the Territory.

(Effective from 15 July 2019 to 30 June 2021)

(Euro amounts in Appendix A being amended annually in accordance with Paragraph 8)

1. Scope of Scheme

Subject to the exclusions set out in paragraph 2 below, this Scheme applies to the inclusion of Licensed Works in a Programme Service initially transmitted from another Member State of the European Economic Area and/or the United Kingdom and primarily intended for Broadcast outside the Territory, which is received and immediately retransmitted, without alteration as to the programme content of the Programme Service, by way of a Cable programme service (including retransmission via IPTV) within the Territory by a Cable Operator.

2. Exclusions

This Scheme does not apply to Cable retransmissions in the Territory of Broadcasts or Cable Programmes transmitted or sent by or under the branding of BBC and ITV, each of which are the subject of a separate scheme entered into between the Cable Operators and the consortium of rights owners (including IMRO) regarding such retransmissions.

In addition, this Scheme does not apply to:

- the delivery of Programme Services over the internet to those members of the public who are not subscribers to a Cable programme service;
- nor to the delivery of Programme Services to mobile devices of cable subscribers if the Cable Operator makes a separate and specifically identifiable charge for such delivery.

3. Definitions

For the purposes of this Scheme:

“Broadcast” shall have the meaning given to it in the Act.

“Cable Operator” means a person authorised to operate a Cable programme service (including the provision of such a service via IPTV) in the Territory.

“Cable Programme”, “Cable programme service” and “Cable retransmission” and “Cable retransmission right” shall have the meaning given to them in the Act.

“IPTV” means internet protocol television, a form of television service whereby audio visual content is retransmitted by a Cable Operator’s system, using internet networking or wireless or mobile protocols via a closed service, to authorised subscribers to the Cable programme service within the Territory. For the avoidance of doubt, this definition includes where an authorised subscriber to such a service is permitted to access such content via mobile reception devices but only where no additional subscription fee is charged by the Cable Operator for such mobile reception device access. For the further avoidance of doubt, IPTV does not include so-called “open” internet delivery of audio visual content, whereby such content is distributed by means of the publicly available internet to non-subscribers to a Cable programme service

“Licence Year” means the period commencing 1st July in any relevant year and ending on the following 30th June.

4. Licence

Any Person or undertaking who retransmits a Programme Service on a Cable programme service in the Territory which includes any Licensed Work, must obtain a licence under this Scheme and is required to sign a Licence Agreement. This Scheme must be read in conjunction with the Licence Agreement and in the event of any conflict or inconsistency between this Scheme and the Licence Agreement, the Licence Agreement shall take precedence. For the avoidance of doubt, pursuant to the terms of the Licence Agreement, while it is the relevant Cable Operator(s) who is/are making use in the Territory of the Licensed Works which are included in a Programme Service, it may be the responsibility of the person or undertaking who initially transmits such a Programme Service to obtain a licence under this Scheme.

5. Licensing Scheme Term

“Sports & News” means Programme Services whose overwhelming majority of programming is generally recognised as being sport and/or news related.

“Niche/Specialist”, means Programme Services with a clearly defined central theme running through the majority of their programming, this theme being generally recognised as having a limited audience when compared to general entertainment, movie or children’s channels, such central themes to include without limitation, adult, the arts, food, factual documentary, game shows/gaming, health, history, home, lifestyle, music, natural history, religion, science, shopping, travel, weather and foreign language Programme Services aimed at specific ethnic groups,. In the event of any uncertainty as to whether a Programme Service meets the foregoing criteria for a Niche/Specialist Programme Service, and particularly where a Programme Service has more than one clearly defined central theme running through its programming, the positioning of the Programme Service within cable operators (or their satellite competitors in the Territory) electronic programme/channel number guides shall be the main factor to be considered by both parties in determining if a Programme Service falls within this definition. For the avoidance of doubt, comedy, children’s and movie Programme Services shall not be considered Niche/Specialist.

“Children’s” means Programme Services commonly referred to as such and/or the majority of whose schedules shall consist of children’s programming which have an audience profile of which over 50% are under 18 and which for the avoidance of doubt exclude music Programme Services.
